REJUVA[®] Designer Compression

Great for ✈️ 🚆 🚗 🪴 🧑 🏃 🩺

How does it work?

Graduated compression hugs the legs most tightly at the ankle & looser above to help blood and fluid move upward.

Benefits of compression:

- ✓ Promotes healthy circulation
- ✓ Reduces & prevents swelling
- ✓ Energizes fatigued legs
- ✓ Alleviates discomfort

Recommended for:

- ✓ Flying & travel
- ✓ Prolonged sitting or standing
- ✓ Swelling & discomfort
- ✓ Athletic recovery
- ✓ Spider & varicose veins
- ✓ Pregnancy
- ✓ Medical applications as physician recommended

Rejuva's compression socks are available in 2 support levels:

15-20 mmHg Mild compression

- New wearers
- Preventative support
- Flying & travel
- Improved circulation
- Mild swelling
- Minor spider & varicose veins

20-30 mmHg Moderate compression

- Firmer support
- Moderate spider & varicose veins
- Therapeutic applications with a physician's recommendation

Argyle

Old school is now new school

Argyle became fashionable after World War I when athletes started sporting the pattern as a part of their competitive attire. University students then followed suit, integrating the pattern into their preppy style. Give your outfit a dash of argyle for that sporty prepster look.

Herringbone

Such a classic.

Usually woven into fabrics such as tweed or wool and used for suits and outerwear, the herringbone pattern is reminiscent of menswear and structured, "put-together" looks. Our version has a nylon / spandex blend that will stretch for your comfort, and will look great whether worn under dress pants or more casual bottoms.

REJUVA[®]

Patterned knee highs with a dressy finish

Why they're different.

Graduated compression

To help alleviate swelling & discomfort.

Multi-dimensional stretch

For ease of application and removal.

Contoured leg design

Perfect for work or dressy occasions.

Luxurious fiber blend

Keeps socks up without binding.

Fashion patterns

Knit integrally into every Rejuva garment.

Reciprocated heel & toe

Reduces friction for added comfort.

Dot

Polka dots – fun yet sophisticated.

With polka dot fans like Elizabeth Taylor, Marilyn Monroe, and Christian Dior, and songs like “Polka Dots and Moonbeams” by Frank Sinatra, how could anyone not love this fun pattern and cultural phenomenon? Let’s raise our glasses (and our legs) to the polka dot.
